

MISSION CONTROL

Mission Control is your “look no further” go-to resource for all of your young adult survivor needs.

You may feel like the only young person in the world dealing with cancer. But there is an entire community of people with resources, programs and services who are ready to help and support you.

Find them all with one easy search in Mission Control, built specifically for 15-39 year olds dealing with cancer. All we need is a little information about you and what you’re looking for and we’ll deliver the information you need in a snap.

We can’t wait to meet you. Come find us!

criticalmass.org/MissionControl